

World Cup Lead-Up

(Adapted from Time for Kids)

The 2026 World Cup is coming. It will start on June 11 and it will happen in three countries, Canada, Mexico, and United States. It is the world's largest soccer tournament.

There will be 48 teams playing. So far, 17 countries have already earned a place. This includes the three host countries.

Getting tickets will be hard. The first chance happened on September 10. Some people who have certain cards could enter a lottery to win tickets.

Tickets prices will start from 60 US dollars, and some may cost up to 6,730 US dollars. The organizers said that prices will change, depending on demand, if many people want tickets, prices may go up.

People will also watch the games on TV. Will you watch the World Cup in 2026?
